June-July 2018 Seattle Artist League, Art, Activism and the Salish Sea

In collaboration with Alan Honick, filmmaker, we gave a lecture illuminating issues facing the Puget Sound Basin, focusing on the loss of Chinook Salmon and Orca Whales, and some possible mitigations. I began teaching a class, "Art, Activism and the Salish Sea", on June 12, 2018 and it will end July 17. I am introducing strategies for interventions, and helping artists articulate their projects, culminating in exhibitions, the first September 12, 2018 at the Seattle Artist League.

April 2018 Sage Assembly, Assembly: Algorithms and the Role of the Individual, Seattle, WA

April 2017 Sage Assembly, Presentation, and Performance, Exploring a Catastrophe to Water with Art and Science Seattle WA

Presented my paintings to the Sage Assembly (200+ attendees) and co-led with scientists a smaller group in an activity that included a performance with focus on the concurrent sewage spill in Puget Sound using a painting method developed by Randy Nichols. I also participated in 2018, an assembly on Algorithms and the Role of the Individual.
